YOU ARE THE CURRENT RESIDENT PODCAST

Our PAC is our power

Brian L. Renfroe e continue to celebrate the massive legislative victory of the Social Security Fairness Act being signed into law after a 40-year fight. In the coming months, implementation of this law will benefit our retired members in a significant way. I'm proud of our members' work that led to this victory.

This month's magazine is dedicated to the Letter Carrier Political Fund (LCPF), NALC's political action committee (PAC). Every year, the February Postal Record honors and thanks our members who are LCPF contributors. If you already are a contributor, thank you for investing in protecting our jobs and retirements. If you haven't signed up yet, I hope this issue will be a helpful resource in understanding how critical a strong LCPF is for our wages and benefits through our right to collectively bargain, job stability and retirement security.

NALC represents our members in a variety of ways. We negotiate and enforce a collective-bargaining agreement, and we help them when they're injured on the job in receiving the benefits they are entitled to under the law. We also represent our members on Capitol Hill and in the White House.

In your day-to-day job (or as a retiree), the way Congress can affect our jobs, retirements and the entire Postal Service operations might not be top of mind. But we must remember just how important, and impactful, our federally elected officials can be. That's why we work to ensure that letter carriers have a voice in Washington.

The primary way we do that is through LCPF. Our PAC is our power on Capitol Hill. The more we can grow and strengthen LCPF, the more powerful we will be.

Even with only 12 percent participation in LCPF, we've recently achieved some major legislative successes. In addition to the Social Security Fairness Act, and after more than a decade of work, the Postal Service Reform Act was signed into law in 2022. These historic victories were hard-fought. LCPF played a crucial role in helping us get there. In this Congress, we have legislative priorities. Soon, the Protect Our Letter Carriers Act will be reintroduced. This bill would improve safety and security for our members while delivering mail. It is a key piece of our fighting back against the violent crime that has victimized too many of our members in recent years.

The Federal Retirement Fairness Act will also be a priority for our union when it is reintroduced. This bill would allow former non-carrier employees to make deposit, or "buy back," their time as non-career employees and have it credited for retirement purposes. Around 65 percent of active NALC members have served as a casual, transitional employee or city carrier assistant. This proposal would give every one of them the opportunity to increase their time credited toward retirement. A stronger and larger LCPF translates directly to advancing these priorities. It is that simple.

"Our PAC is our power on Capitol Hill. The more we can grow and strengthen LCPF, the more powerful we will be."

For the first time in several years, we also must focus on building our defenses. The makeup of Congress has changed. Leadership has shifted. Based on our past experiences, it is likely we will see proposals to increase retirement costs for letter carriers and attacks on our collective-bargaining rights. We already have heard talk of privatizing the Postal Service and contracting out our jobs. We have worked for years to build a strong bipartisan pro-letter carrier majority in Congress, and we will use that pro-letter carrier majority to fight vigorously against any attempt to harm our members or the service we provide. The LCPF is what will fuel these fights.

Our members standing together to grow our power is how we achieve results and fight those who attack us. If you don't contribute to LCPF yet, you can learn more about how to sign up on page 23. I hope you will join in the fight. Let's take on this challenge and work together to build a powerful LCPF in 2025.

Creativity and commitment on the postal beat movie debut/red carpet date of March 1 has been set for the Nashville-based film about Mike Charest and his late wife, Judy, known locally-and, soon, beyondas the Christmas Eve miracle baby, after the 3-month-old survived a 90-foot jump from a bridge in her depressed mother's arms into a frigid river on Christmas Eve of 1956.

Philip Dine

Judy rose to become a figure in Nashville's country music scene, working for legends such as Waylon Jennings. She and Mike met, found they shared a love for Johnny Cash. Mike left his mail route in Nashua, NH, for one in Nashville, TN, and now the movie "Miracle on Shelby Street" will tell their story.

Mike, of Nashville Branch 4, plays himself in his later years, and "he has turned out to be a fairly good actor, he really has," according to Jack Hager, part-owner of Bright Morning Star Films and a producer of the movie.

Jack says that several things intrigued him about the story's potential after Mike "asked me to take a listen"-the actual event it's based on, a miracle that's in the city's archives; along with Mike's determination to honor the legacy of his wife, who had hoped to write a book about her life.

And something else impressed Jack (offered with no prompting on my part): "The fact that he has dedicated his life to the Postal Service, how good it's been to him, and the fact that he was instrumental in getting the Johnny Cash stamp done."

Speaking of movies, there's been a good deal of buzz about Netflix's new film "The Six Triple Eight"—understandable, given that it's based on the heroic African American women of the 6888 Postal Battalion who broke a WWII postal backlog in Europe, allowing communication between GIs and their families back home and boosting military morale.

Let's make one thing clear, though: The Postal Record beat Netflix to the punch.

As readers of this magazine know, we've written several times in recent years about the military unit and about how some current female letter carriers/military veterans were inspired by those pioneers.

Our coverage was kicked off by Mike Shea's article recounting the 6888's history, which won first place for labor history in the International Labor Communications Association's 2022 contest.

We're honored to have Netflix follow in NALC's tracks—and here's hoping it achieves its own award-winning recognition.

The recent book by Chuck Hester, a 16-year Alabama letter carrier, continues to generate positive news. The initial press release from the South Carolina-based publisher is set for tomorrow as I write this, but a copy obtained today calls the book "a captivating collection of stories that explores how the author's dachshund Rusty helped to teach him more about God."

Chuck and his book, What Rusty Taught Me about God, will be the subject of an upcoming local podcast. Meanwhile, readers' Amazon reviews have an average rating of 5, highest possible, and use terms such as "great book, well written, enjoyable read, adorable, entertaining."

Longtime Fort Payne, AL Branch 3359 President Dwight Chapman makes clear that this couldn't happen to a more deserving person.

"Chuck has been a great carrier and role model," he says. "Everything about Chuck has been fantastic. He's been a great guy with great character. He does everything he can do to help customers, anybody, everybody. If you don't like Chuck, you just ain't gonna like anybody."

It's no exaggeration to say that Lloyd N. Pearson Jr. is among the most unique people in NALC and postal annals. And now, his legacy will resonate among future generations, with the Jan. 12 renaming of Branch 53's building in Jacksonville, FL, as the Lloyd Nash Pearson Jr. Memorial Building.

Lloyd, a 75-year member who passed away about a year ago at age 102, signed on with the Post Office in 1942 as a mail train guard, a few months after Pearl Harbor brought us into WWII. He switched to the letter carrier craft in 1947, championed racial and labor causes as a delegate to 25 NAACP national conventions and 20 NALC ones, and was a Navy reservist. After retiring 48 years ago, he registered 35,000 Florida voters.

Past North Florida Branch 53 President Bob Henning says the branch was "more than proud" to rename its building after "such a remarkable man."

Notably, seven years ago next month Lloyd spoke at the renaming of Jacksonville's main post office for his late brother, Rutledge Pearson, in congressional recognition of Rutledge's civil rights leadership.

So now, the largest city of our third-largest state has two major postal edifices bearing the names of two humble brothers who improved our country for all.

DRF helping carriers affected by L.A. fires

The devastating wildfires in Los Angeles continued to rage as this issue went to press in mid-January. According to news reports, at least 24 people had died, 23 others were missing and thousands had been evacuated. The largest of the fires destroyed nearly the entire Pacific Palisades neighborhood and consumed 37 square miles. More than 12,000 structures have burned down in the area, leaving untold numbers of people homeless.

In all, 150,000 people in Los Angeles County had been ordered to evacuate. Some took refuge in nine emergency shelter sites in the area. Firefighting crews from California and eight other states, joined by crews from Mexico and Canada, had responded. More than 14,000 firefighters using 1,300 fire engines and 84 aircraft were battling the blazes.

The devastation was expected to continue as Santa Ana winds up to 70 mph were forecast. Not only did emergency personnel have to contain spreading fires, they needed to respond to any new fires that popped up, complicating their efforts.

With such a large disaster unfolding, letter carriers already have been affected. The NALC Disaster Relief Foundation (DRF) is contacting affected carriers and providing assistance.

"We know that multiple carriers have lost everything in the fires," DRF President Christina Vela Davidson said, while others had to evacuate from their homes, she said. "We are working through the local branches to find and reach out to any carriers who need help." About 80 carriers were displaced from their homes by evacuation; at least 11 of them had homes that were destroyed.

Fortunately, DRF isn't aware of any carriers or carriers' family members killed or injured.

Of course. postal operations are affected by the fires. Some postal facilities were damaged, delivery is suspended to affected areas, firefighting crews have blocked access to some roads and smoke is a hazard for carriers working outside. USPS and NALC are working to ensure that carriers remain safe on the job.

The Postal Record will provide a new report about this disaster in the next issue.

In the meantime, NALC members can help their fellow carriers in crisis by supporting the Disaster Relief Foundation.

The foundation identifies carriers who are affected by disasters and disseminates aid as soon as possible. The aid can include emergency grants or supplies such as water, food, clothing and postal uniform items. Working closely with local branch leaders, DRF also helps NALC members whose homes are uninhabitable by offering emergency grants so a member might be able to find temporary housing or transportation, as well as helping them apply for additional grant funds once the weather clears and they are able to assess their damage.

Grants are provided for property damage sustained to a primary residence, automobile or personal property from causes such as hurricanes, floods, tornadoes, earthquakes or severe storms, along with wildfires, and are provided only to NALC members.

Members do not have to wait for emergency relief or insurance claims to be settled to apply. Applications must be received within 120 days from the date of the natural disaster, unless the applicant can provide sufficient reasons for a delay. The application for a relief grant is on the foundation's website, nalc.org/disaster.

The foundation relies on donations from NALC members. Every penny of donations to DRF go directly to individual carriers or branches needing assistance—no administrative costs are deducted.

"Your donations are helping NALC members in the path of the wildfires who receive assistance to get back on their feet quickly," NALC President Brian L. Renfroe said. "Please give to DRF to help them get through this crisis."

Donations can be sent to: NALC Disaster Relief Foundation, 100 Indiana Ave. NW, Washington, DC 20001-2144; or made by credit card at nalc.org/ ndrfdonate. The foundation is a 501(c)(3) organization; contributions to DRF may be tax-deductible. It is recommended that you consult your tax advisor. PR

President Biden signs Social Security Fairness Act into law

n Jan. 5, President Joe Biden signed the Social Security Fairness Act (H.R. 82) into law, delivering a hard-fought victory for letter carriers and public servants across the nation. The legislation, which was overwhelmingly passed by the Senate on Dec. 20 and the House on Nov. 12, will ensure that affected Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS) retirees no longer face unfair reductions in their Social Security benefits.

"The passage of the Social Security Fairness Act is a monumental win for retired letter carriers and other public servants, ensuring they receive the full Social Security benefits they've earned and deserve," NALC President Brian L. Renfroe said. "We extend our deepest gratitude to the members of the House and Senate, and especially to the NALC members who fought tirelessly to make this law a reality."

The Social Security Fairness Act repeals the WEP and GPO provisions in Social Security law that previously unfairly reduced or eliminated Social Security benefits for certain CSRS federal annuitants, including letter carriers.

As he prepared to sign the bill into law, President Biden thanked labor leaders and reflected, saying, "Today is a victory for the dignity of work and the dignity of workers."

With this landmark legislation now signed into law, public servants who have dedicated their careers to serving the country will no longer face unjust financial penalties, ensuring they receive the full Social Security benefits they have earned.

For more on NALC's long fight to repeal WEP and GPO, see the previous issue of The Postal Record. NALC will be in touch with more information regarding the enactment and timing of these changes for affected members.

Anti-privatization resolution to be reintroduced in House, Senate

A bipartisan House and Senate resolution calling on Congress to take all appropriate measures to ensure that the Postal Service remains an independent establishment of the federal government, not subject to privatization, was set to be introduced as this magazine was going to print.

The resolution will be identical to the ones introduced in previous Congresses. In recent years, when privatization talks and threats were heightened, the resolution reached a bipartisan majority of cosponsors in both chambers of Congress.

NALC members' outreach and advocacy were key to reaching that bipartisan majority. Once again, to gain support for this priority resolution, letter carriers' letters, emails, calls and district meetings will be key to increasing co-sponsors.

Check the "Government Affairs" section of nalc.org and NALC's Legislative Action Center at nalc.org/action for updates.

Protect Our Letter Carriers Act scheduled for reintroduction

As this magazine was going to print, final plans were being set for the reintroduction of the Protect Our Letter Carriers Act.

The bipartisan bill will again be led by Reps. Brian Fitzpatrick (R-PA) and Greg Landsman (D-OH) in the House and Sens. Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY) and Josh Hawley (R-MO) in the Senate. Last Congress, the bill reached 138 co-sponsors in the House.

The bill will be identical to the previous version, including three important elements to deter the increasing crimes and assaults committed against letter carriers on the job:

- Funding to replace and modernize postal infrastructure that is often sought out by criminals.
- Designation for an assistant district attorney in each judicial district to prioritize in a timely manner cases involving an assault against a letter carrier.
- Increasing prosecution rates for those who are found guilty of committing these crimes.

While the Postal Service has started to roll out modernized technology in certain areas and the prosecution rates for these crimes have increased some, this bill is the next step to stop these crimes from happening and to send the message that an attack on a letter carrier is a federal crime with serious consequences.

Patrice Runner (below) pretended to be a psychic named Maria Duval to bilk victims of their money.

Smishing, brushing and other postal-related scams hink the internet or smartphones are the only places where all the scammers are trying to take advantage of people today? Think again.

Scammers use the Postal Service to steal by deception in many devious ways, and the payouts can be enormous. Victims have lost their life savings and their homes.

Last year, Patrice Runner, 57, a Canadian man, was sentenced to 10 years in prison for a massive mail fraud scheme uncovered by the U.S. Postal Inspection Service. Postal inspectors say that Runner defrauded 1.3 million victims of a total of at least $175 million before he was caught.

With several co-conspirators, Runner ran a sophisticated mass-mail

operation from 1994 to 2014 that sent letters to vulnerable people, often elderly, purportedly sent by a pair of psychics named Maria Duval and Patrick Guerin. In the letters, the psychics promised knowledge that would lead to wealth, better health or happinessfor a fee. Those who sent money back received more and more letters asking for personal information, which was then used to tailor the "psychic" response letters that asked for even more money and information.

Runner's operation was a large-scale international scheme that involved multiple shell companies in several countries to cover up his activities. He used sophisticated mailing machinery, the same kind employed by legitimate mass-mailing companies.

"These letters went out by the tens of millions to every corner of America," Postal Inspector Clayton Gerber said on "Mailin' It," the USPS podcast. "And people paid. They believed it."

Letter carriers can help protect vulnerable postal patrons from scams by keeping a step ahead of the scammers and their latest schemes, as well as by recognizing time-honored fakes and

Exploiting trust in the mail

Ironically, scammers who use the mail may gain from distrust of the internet. While many people might recognize an email or text message scam, there's something about a paper document that feels more reliable, even though it is easy to create fake documents such as checks. Scammers also might capitalize on the trust that Americans have in USPS by using counterfeit Postal Service money orders or other fake USPS documents in their scams.

Perhaps the most well-known scam today is the "Nigerian prince" gambit. The scam always involves asking the victim to put some of their own money in jeopardy in order to pay some kind of bank fee or tax to release a larger payout, which of course never materializes. It's a scam often run through email and social media, but scammers might try to hook victims through the mail by sending counterfeit documents, such as checks or money orders. Sometimes the scammer asks the victim to deposit this check and then keep some of the proceeds and send the rest to a third party immediately. The original check then bounces because it's fake, but the victim has already sent their own money to the scammer.

Nigeria is known as a source of scams, but they can come from all over the world. Scams targeting U.S. Mail customers often originate overseas because it makes it more difficult for U.S. authorities to catch and prosecute the scammers. This was the case with the fraud operation by Runner, who was extradited from Spain for trial.

One prevalent variation of scams run through the mail is a foreign lottery scam. According to scambusters.org, a nonprofit consumer protection group, the scammer tells the victim that they have won a foreign lottery, but that a "remittance fee" must be sent to collect the winnings, or bank account information must be shared.

There are other clever twists to scams that take advantage of the time it takes for a check to bounce and the fraud to be discovered. In one, scammers send a check to the winner first (the check, of course, is fake) with a letter telling the victim it is to cover taxes or fees. The victim is instructed to deposit the check and then transfer their own money to a certain address, which the scammer then intercepts. In another, scammers send victims a check (again, fake) and tell the them they've been chosen as a "mystery shopper." Victims are instructed to buy gift cards with their own funds now and wait for the check to clear, which of course it never does.

In fact, scammers sometimes send official-looking documents impersonating real government agencies to intimidate victims. The documents may warn that the victim owes money for an unpaid speeding ticket or threaten jail time if a fee isn't paid immediately. As with similar scams by email, text or phone call, scammers might demand payment by gift card because gift cards aren't traceable and can't be recovered.

Mail fraud is nothing new

Though the scams keep evolving, scammers have used the mail to defraud people for a long time.

Chain letters have been around at least since 1888, when a missionary school asked supporters to send a dime and then send a copy of the letter to others. Since then, scammers have worked appeals for money or valuables into chain letters. Get-rich-quick offers and Ponzi schemes that ask for investments with guaranteed returns that never come about also have flooded the mail for a long time.

A variation on the get-rich-quick scam promises a way to make money by working from home. Work-fromhome scams often prey on people who can't work outside their homes due to disability or caring for children or other loved ones. The scammer simply asks for money for work supplies, often envelopes to stuff for mail marketing, or training materials. Of course, the supplies never arrive.

One of the newest, and perhaps most confusing, postal scams is

"brushing." To make an e-commerce listing appear legitimate, an online merchandise seller orders their own product in the victim's name and ships it to the victim's address. The seller then posts a fake positive review using the victim's name. Shipping the item gets around the "verified sale" restriction on reviews, which is designed to screen out fake reviews by people who didn't really buy the item.

While free merchandise may not sound so bad, receiving unsolicited packages can be a sign of a more serious scam—someone may have hacked into the recipients' e-commerce account and ordered merchandise with the intent of stealing it from their porch before they notice or claiming it wasn't delivered to get a refund.

Postal customers may also be victims of "smishing" (SMS phishing) attacks, which happen through email or text but often involve scammers impersonating the Postal Service. The typical smishing message says that delivery of an item was incomplete, and more information is needed to get it to the customer. Inevitably, the scammer asks for something like a credit card number along with a correct address. As with so many scams, the smishing fraud assumes customers who trust the Postal Service will give their personal information before thinking twice.

The romance scam is perhaps one of the most despicable frauds out there. Preying on lonely people, sometimes elderly widows or widowers, romance scammers impersonate a potential mate, showering the victim with love letters that soon ask for money. Once the victim realizes they've been deceived and stops sending money, the fake lover disappears, breaking hearts and emptying bank accounts. The change-of-address (COA) scam is one that letter carriers are in a good position to spot before customers are victimized. The scammer files a fraudulent change of address for an unknowing postal patron, diverting their mail to the scammer, who either steals financial information from the mail or, if the information was already stolen, hides the bills and statements from the victim. Because they know their customers well, letter carriers often spot suspicious address changes at addresses where the patrons haven't moved away.

Harrisburg, PA Branch 500 member Christopher Lippy was honored as the 2022 Special Carrier Alert Hero of the Year for spotting fraudulent COAs and warning his customer (see the June 2023 Postal Record).

And, of course, there is plain old mail theft. Thieves may swipe mail from mailboxes or somewhere else in the mail stream and grab personal information to use for identity theft or credit card fraud, or steal checks, cash or packages. Even discarded mail in the trash can be a gold mine for identity thieves, prompting many consumers and businesses to shred their sensitive documents.

"We often talk about the sanctity of the mail, and keeping customers safe from scams can be part of that," NALC President Brian L. Renfroe said. "Protecting the mail from fraud starts with letter carriers. Just as we keep an eye out for people on our routes who need help in an emergency, we should be vigilant about fraud and illegal activity involving the mail."

To report fraud, theft or other crimes involving the mail to postal inspectors, go to uspis.gov/report or call the Postal Inspection Service 24-hour hotline at 877-876-2455. PR

Carriers and the mail make news online

ail-centered stories frequently appear on social media and online news sites. The following are a few that have come to NALC's attention recently. If you find a story you'd like us to consider featuring, send it to postalrecord@nalc.org.

A croissant, coffee, a pen and paper for here, s'il vous plaît

With more than a thousand cafes in the city, Paris is certainly known for its cafes. Some say a trip to Paris is not complete without participating in the ritual of enjoying a cup of coffee and a pastry.

But at one Paris cafe, Bistro des Lettres, customers receive more than caffeine, nutrients and a memory from their time there. As customers are enjoying their meals they are given a pen, paper and envelope. Then, a year after the letter is drafted, cafe workers mail the envelope to the specified address.

According to its website, Bistro des Lettres offers its customers "...the opportunity to immortalize their thoughts, dreams and emotions through a letter ...like a sweet reminder of this moment. ...During your meal, we invite you to write a personal letter—a reflection, a wish or simply a souvenir of the moment shared."

The cafe serves seasonal French dishes that combine traditional and contemporary elements of cuisine. It is owned by Larome Group, an international restaurant conglomerate, which seems to have an interest in the written word, as showcased by another of their restaurants, Bistro des Poemes, a restaurant that celebrates poetry with poems as decoration and dishes inspired by poems. The group is planning to open another restaurant, Bistro des Livres (Bistro of Books) soon.

Small town's residents want their post office back

It has been about two years since the small town of Bolinas, CA, lost its post office. Because of the town's peculiar setup, with uniquely shaped streets and sharp turns, only a small portion of its residents are eligible to get mail delivery to their doors. So, residents relied on going to the post office to pick up their mail.

But concerns over asbestos in the floor quickly led to the closing of the post office. Since then, most town residents have had to drive 40 minutes roundtrip to pick up their mail in Olema. The Olema post office often floods, meaning Bolinas residents have to retrieve their mail at another post office. Residents have complained about their mail often being lost. With 60 percent of residents depending on the post office to receive their medication, according to a 2023 poll, the change in where they can get their mail—and whether they can get their mail—is worrisome. Above: A customer takes a moment to write a letter at Bistro des Lettres. Below: The residents of Bolinas raise awareness about the loss of their post office.

Although residents find the trek inconvenient, the feelings of loss weren't just about mail. The post office was a social gathering place for neighbors checking their boxes and a break from solitude in a small town known for artists, hippies and surfers wanting a retreat into nature. Each month, one artist's creations were featured next to the counter of the post office. Without the need to go to the post office, residents don't go downtown as often, meaning some businesses near the post office are not doing as well as they had been doing prior to the closure.

Louis "Speedy" Weber's letters to his wife from World War II

USPS has offered to expand street delivery, but some are worried that this would mean a reduced chance of their beloved post office's return. Some residents speculate that the post office will never reopen. Kristina Uppal, a Bay Area-based spokesperson for the USPS, told the San Francisco Chronicle in December. "We are currently in lease negotiations for a permanent solution and hope to have the matter resolved soon."

One resident's vard bears a sign that says, "Days without a Bolinas Post Office," and each day the resident changes the sign. One resident launched an online petition to get a Bolinas post office, which nearly all town residents signed. Residents got their congressional representative to lobby for their post office by talking to Postmaster General Louis DeJoy. Community members marched in local parades dressed as letter carriers and performed USPSthemed songs at community rallies. Although there are no official plans for a new post office vet, residents are hopeful that it will one day return.

300 letters from WWII soldier to his wife uncovered

The love story of Louis "Speedy" Weber and his wife, Frances, involved a lot of letters. Weber was consistent. He enlisted in the Army on June 9, 1942, and was shipped off the very same day. Weber wrote his first letter when he was at an Italian restaurant near their home in the Bronx precinct of New York City, telling her that he was being shipped off to Fort Dix, NJ.

The next day he sent her a letter from Fort Dix telling her he wanted her to write to him every day and she nearly did. From Fort Dix, Weber went to numerous places around the world, but the letters never stopped. Nor did his replies. Letters came from South Carolina, North Africa, Sicily, France, Belgium and Germany. Weber wrote more than 300 letters to Frances, and she saved them all.

In 2022 someone sent all of Weber's letters to the United Service Organizations (USO), a charitable organization that supports active-duty service members and military families. The USO is now in the process of sorting and digitizing the letters.

Although none of his letters detailed his military service, they provide a look at the intimate thoughts of a soldier fighting the Axis powers across North Africa and Europe during World War II.

He wrote about his personal life in the Army, how much he missed Frances and how much he couldn't wait to come home. He also sent her packages including salami, a voice recording on a primitive voice recorder, photos and French money.

"Just as sure as night must follow day I'll keep missing you until I can come home and hold you in my arms once again," he wrote in a letter, according to The Washington Post. "You are always in my heart."

Although little is known about the couple's lives, a census record indicated that they were living in the Bronx in 1950 with Frances' mother and had no children. At the time, Frances was working at the post office and Weber was a watchmaker. Years later they moved to Sunrise, FL, where they both died—Weber in 1997 and Frances in 2005.

New Forever stamps for 2025

On Dec.19, USPS announced the release dates for its new stamps.

Included is Betty White, an American actress and comedian whose career spanned seven decades. In 1953 she became the first woman to produce and star in a sitcom. She is best known for her part in the 1980s sitcom, "The Golden Girls." The stamp will be released on March 27 in Los Angeles, and will feature a smiling Betty White with a purple background and wearing a purple polka-dotted top.

Another set will celebrate powwows, a type of Native American gathering that celebrates culture through song, dance and food. There are four stamps that are brightly colored and depict Native Americans performing their traditional craft, according to USPS.

Freshwater fishing is a hobby that attracts more than 55 million anglers, and the Postal Service has created a stamp to showcase the diverse lures used by them across the country.

So far, the Postal Service has announced the release dates for 11 more stamps due to come out from January to March. They include stamps honoring and depicting the Lunar Year, Allen Toussaint, love, spiral galaxies, American vistas and the Appalachian trail.

The Black women who moved the mail in WWII becomes film

In December, Netflix released "The Six Triple Eight," a film about the Women's Army Corps' all-Black battalion, the 6888th. When World War II soldiers and families began to lose hope after not hearing anything from their families for years, the 855-person battalion worked to deliver more than 17 million letters from 1945 to 1946, which had been backlogged for three years.

The movie depicts their success along with their struggles—both from higher-ups expecting the battalion to fail, and the racial prejudices of the time. Despite the white and Black military women training side by side, the Black women were treated worse, such as being asked to give up their seats in theaters to white people.

The film was directed by Tyler Perry and stars Kerry Washington, Ebony Obsidian, Milauna Jackson, Kylie Jefferson, Shanice Shantay, Sarah Jeffery and Oprah Winfrey in an ensemble cast.

It was based on a magazine article published in 2019, titled "Fighting a Two-Front War," by Kevin M. Hymel. The article discussed the many contributions of the 6888th Central Postal Directory Battalion in World War II. PR

Honoring heroic carriers

eroism, like the mail, comes in many packages—think of police officers or firefighters. But for some citizens in need of assistance, their heroes come in the form of their letter carriers.

Letter carriers are members of nearly every community in this nation and know when something is wrong. Spotting fires and injuries, they often are the first to respond. The following stories document their heroism. For them, delivering for America is all in a day's work.

Carrier helps woman who fell in her garden

On a sweltering day in May 2024, Roy, UT Branch 68 member Adam Benincosa saw a woman lying on the ground next to her garden in the front yard.

"Out of the corner of my eye, I saw some frantic waving, and I looked over, and it was one of my customers," Benincosa told KSL NewsRadio.

He ran over to the woman, Sherry Jarvis, and she told him that she had been lying on the ground for about 45 minutes after losing her balance and hitting her face on the wooden border of her garden.

"I was weeding, and I went to pull out this big weed. Well... the weed won," Jarvis told KSL.

Jarvis had attempted to yell for some neighbors she could hear, but they weren't able to hear her. That's when she saw Benincosa.

The resident was able to call her sister while she was on the ground and told her she had fallen, but her sister lived about an hour away, so she wouldn't be there for a while.

"We got her up, and she said she couldn't feel her legs," Benincosa said. "I would count to three. 'One, two, three, and then I'll lift you.' She kept saying 'No, no, I can't feel my legs yet.' We had to let some blood rush back into her legs to get her up."

As they waited, Benincosa checked for signs of dehydration, but she seemed OK. He eventually helped her sit up and he sat with her for a few minutes. Then, Benincosa helped her into her house and Jarvis's sister arrived a little while later and took her to the doctor.

"I saw her a couple days later and her face was really beat up, but she was very grateful. I was just in the right place at the right time," Benincosa, a 30-year carrier, said. "She actually brought me cookies four or five days later."

Carrier saves woman in house fire

In late September, Meagan Murray, a carrier in New Hampton, IA, drove up to where she was going to park to start her next loop, but as soon as she pulled in, the Waterloo Branch 512 member saw smoke coming from a house. She called 911 and started walking to the door. Knowing that an elderly woman lived in the house and usually was home at that time of day, Murray banged on the doors trying "to see if she was in there, even," she said.

She tried multiple doors and there was no answer, so the carrier moved onto windows. At this point Murray said, "smoke was, like, really coming out all through the roof and the foundation." She knocked on a few windows, then she said she "tried one more time and then the lady finally knocked back from the inside in the window."

She went to the doors to see if she could open them, but they were all locked.

"I have no idea if it was adrenaline or what, but I just was, like, banging on the door, like, wiggling the doorknob as much as I could," Murray, a three-year letter carrier, said. "Jerking it, pushing it. I don't know if it was God or what, but I got it."

Murray walked into the smoke-filled house and spotted the soot-covered resident. The carrier reached out to the woman, and helped her out of the house to safety, comforting her until her family arrived.

As it turns out, the homeowner had just returned home from an errand and started the stove. A few minutes later, she heard a "pop" in the basement and then started to smell and see smoke. She couldn't get the door between the kitchen and garage open, so she instead made her way to the living-room door. She had begun banging on the window when she spotted Murray.

A fire department investigation found that the electrical cord of a dehumidifier in the basement was likely the source of the fire, so luckily the resident wasn't touched by flames. The letter carrier has seen the resident since, and she seemed OK.

"If you drive by the house, you wouldn't think anything had happened," the fire chief told the New Hampton Tribune, "but there's pretty serious damage. If you think about it, when you have a fire in a basement, it's going to cause damage to the floor joists for the first floor."

The home was deemed a total loss, but the resident is still living in the same neighborhood while she waits for it to be rebuilt.

Carrier alerts neighbors of customer's fall

Though Louisville, KY Branch 14 member Gabrielle Washington had been on her route for only eight months, she had already got to know her customers. One of them, Mr. Tedesco, 93, had difficulties getting to his mailbox, so Washington would go to his back door each day, chat with him briefly and hand-deliver his mail.

One hot day in July 2024, while on her route, she saw Tedesco on the ground outside his back door.

"He kept holding his head," Washington said, noting that he had a large gash there.

The carrier tried to get him up, but "he was just kind of like, 'I don't really want to get up.'"

Washington asked him if he wanted her to call emergency services, but Tedesco didn't want her to. "He was an older gentleman, and I know how sometimes ambulances can be overwhelming," she said.

She consulted a neighbor whom Tedesco talked to often and they asked Tedesco what he wanted to do. He said he wanted to go to his caregiver's house. Washington and the neighbor helped him into Tedesco's truck, and the neighbor drove him to his caregiver's house.

The neighbor later stopped by the post office to thank Washington for her kind actions. He added that Tedesco was doing all right and that he had stayed at his caregiver's house for a few days. However, he had many other health conditions, and his health took a turn for the worse and he ended up dying about a month after the fall.

Letter carrier helps prevent house fire

Westchester Merged, NY Branch 693 member Israel Serrano, a five-year letter carrier, has been on the same route for a year and a half.

One of the customers on his route is in his 80s and has trouble bending down to pick up his mail when Serrano puts it in his mail slot. Serrano would regularly open the door and place his customer's mail on the table in the entryway.

When Serrano opened the outer door on Jan. 11, 2024, he didn't notice anything unusual, but "then I opened the inner door, put the mail on the table, and I noticed that it was a little smoky," he said.

His customer normally sat in a chair visible from his front door, but Serrano didn't see him when he placed his mail down that day. The customer's son, Mike Dempsey, happened to live in the condo below him, so Serrano ran downstairs to alert him.

Dempsey went upstairs with Serrano and found his father in the dining room. Dempsey noticed something burning in the oven and turned it off.

"I'd like to pass on my thanks and appreciation to Israel, our mail carrier," Dempsey wrote to the Postal Service, noting that had Serrano not alerted him, "it probably would have been a very dangerous situation. ... Please recognize Israel for his great job and alertness."

"We prevented a fire," Serrano said of helping in the situation. "I felt great."

Vigilant letter carrier notices piled-up mail

Doriel Carson, a 12-year letter carrier, had just returned to her route after a few days off around Columbus Day when the Chicago, IL Branch 11 carrier went to put mail into an elderly customer's mailbox. She saw that there was mail hanging out of the box with some of it on the ground. That was unusual, since the woman normally was diligent about collecting her mail each day. Carson picked up the mail but instead of trying to put it back, she rang the doorbell.

"I'm giving her time and I'm standing there for an extended amount of time, because I know she's elderly and it takes her time to get to the door," Carson said. "I'm not getting anything [a response], so I'm like, 'This is really weird.'"

As Carson stood outside the door, a neighbor spotted her, suggested that a wellness check should be performed and called the police.

Carson knew that the woman was a widow without children and didn't have many people who checked on her.

Emergency responders arrived, broke down the door and found the resident at the bottom of a set of stairs, where she had fallen and had been unable to get up for several days. Once paramedics had the situation in hand, Carson continued her route.

The woman was severely dehydrated and had fractured her hip. Carson said that she was in a rehabilitation facility, "and from what I hear, she's going to be just fine."

Helping patrons is just part of the job, the carrier said: "There are so many of us carriers that really love our job and care about our customers and the community that we work in, and we look out for them." PR

LETTER CARRIER Political fund

DELIVERING NALC'S MESSAGE TO WASHINGTON

he Letter Carrier Political Fund (LCPF) is NALC's political action committee (PAC) that powers our voice and influence on Capitol Hill. Congress initiates policies that affect our collective-bargaining rights, health care and retirement benefits, and the operations of the Postal Service, so federal elected officials deeply matter. Letter carriers need a voice when lawmakers make decisions regarding our jobs and retirements. One of our main tools to achieve this is LCPF, which relies solely on voluntary donations from NALC members and their families.

"Thanks to our generous LCPF contributors, NALC has a strong and respected voice on Capitol Hill," NALC President Brian L. Renfroe said. "These funds, and the strategic ways we use them, have been key to our recent unprecedented legislative successes. Bipartisanship has always guided LCPF, and as we continue to grow our power through the PAC in the coming year, it will remain central."

LCPF MAKES OUR SUCCESS

The last few congresses have been historic for letter carriers. In the 117th Congress, after a 12-year battle, the Postal Service Reform Act was signed into law. This law ended the pre-funding requirement for retiree health care, saving the Postal Service billions of dollars annually, and codified six-day mail and package delivery into law. While this victory might be the most familiar to letter carriers, it is only one of many in recent years.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, USPS received a $10 billion loan, which was later converted to a grant, to keep operations running as usual in a time of great uncertainty. The Inflation Reduction Act included $3 billion to modernize the Postal Service's vehicle fleet. Additionally, we made a major step forward for our veteran members with the enactment of the Sergeant First Class Heath Robinson Honoring our Promise to Address Comprehensive Toxics (PACT) Act in 2022, which helps veterans who may have been exposed to toxic substances during their military services.

Most recently, at the end of the 118th Congress, NALC celebrated another historic win. After 40 years of injustice, the Social Security Fairness Act was signed into law. This law repealed the Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) and the Government Pension Offset (GPO), parts of Social Security law that had unfairly reduced, or even eliminated, Social Security benefits for certain Civil Service Retirement System retirees, including letter carriers. Under the new law, all retired letter carriers now receive their fully earned Social Security benefits.

Bipartisanship was key to finally repealing the WEP and GPO. In the House, 327 members voted for the bill, and 76 senators supported the final vote in the upper chamber. In deeply partisan times, these vote counts are uncommon. This victory would have been impossible if only one party supported it.

We use LCPF to support those who align with our values and goals. Regardless of political affiliation, we are committed to backing individuals who can help us achieve our objectives.

NALC is known to have one of the most bipartisan PACs in the labor movement. We proudly wear this badge of honor because, as we have seen over and over, success does not come from one side or the other. Bipartisanship is top of mind in every single one of our political efforts, and we will continue to use LCPF as a tool to establish and strengthen relationships with legislators on both sides of the aisle.

LOOKING AHEAD

Even with our recent legislative successes in the rearview mirror, our work is far from over. NALC still has a robust legislative agenda focused on improving the working lives and retirements of letter carriers, and new challenges are certain to arise. As we have seen in recent years, a strong LCPF is key to being prepared and ensuring more victories.

A top priority is the Protect Our Letter Carriers Act, which is essential to deterring the extreme uptick of robberies and violent assaults targeting letter carriers on the job. This federal solution is the next step to preventing these crimes from happening and keeping letter carriers safe.

Secondly, the Federal Retirement Fairness Act is needed to ensure timely retirements for all letter carriers. The bill would allow certain federal and postal employees, including casuals, transitional employees and city carrier assistants, to make catch-up retirement contributions for time spent as non-career employees, making this time creditable toward their retirement.

Another key priority involves the Postal Service investing its three retirement funds. Currently, the agency's three retirement funds, which include billions of dollars, are held in low-yield Treasury bonds, causing the agency to lose out on potential billions of dollars in annual returns. A simple directive from Congress could fix this by permitting the agency to invest the funds more responsibly and advantageously.

These priorities are coupled with our strong defenses that will have to go back up. In recent months, anti-Postal Service and anti-labor agendas have reemerged.

As this magazine was going to print, a resolution calling to keep the Postal Service an independent federal agency that is not subject to privatization was set to be introduced. In 2019, when threats and privatization talks were at their height, this House and Senate resolution reached bipartisan majorities, with 267 co-sponsors in the House and 54 in the Senate. A powerful LCPF is critical to building and maintaining this strong defense.

Ill-guided privatization ideas will not be our only concern in the 119th Congress. We anticipate proposals that we have seen before—like cutting federal employees' benefits to reduce the nation's deficit. These misguided ideas are not unfamiliar, but we will need to engage in the fight as strongly as ever.

Budget hawks have previously gone after the Federal Employee Retirement System (FERS). While some are after reductions, others have proposed ending FERS for new retirees, taking away future annuities. Members of Congress must understand that when they try to balance the budget, federal employees and their benefits and retirements are completely off-limits. Any proposed cuts are anti-worker and a non-starter.

A strong LCPF is our best defense against whatever new or backward ideas come up regarding the Postal Service or federal employees. While we keep building up our defenses, we will continue to seek out any opportunities to advance policies that will benefit letter carriers and the network. Our recent successes did not come from one party or another. They happened with various makeups in Washington different administrations and different parties controlling Congress at different times. LCPF is what allows us to keep strong alliances on both sides of the aisle, and this will be as important as ever in the years ahead.

HOW LCPF WORKS

Recent years have proven that a strong LCPF delivers results. But exactly how does it function, and what is its role in action?

LCPF is a voluntary PAC that takes donations only from letter carriers and their family members. Campaign fundraising is heavily regulated by federal law, so union dues cannot be used for political campaign contributions.

First, LCPF directly supports candidates' campaigns by providing the resources they need to communicate with voters. It takes a good deal of money for a candidate to run a successful campaign for office-modern campaign techniques for reaching voters can cost a campaign millions of dollars, and the 2024 elections were on track to be the most expensive ever. Most candidates rely on their allies for help. LCPF ensures that our friends running for office get the support they need. If they didn't get our support, the forces in Congress who want to take away everything we've earned-our health care, our pensions, our collective-bargaining rights-would likely prevail because their allies, primarily corporations and wealthy individuals, have deep pockets. With razor-thin margins and widening divisions in Congress, we must work for every inch of ground.

Second, LCPF devotes resources to get-out-the-vote efforts. This vital effort involves direct member engagement through coordinated work with our brothers and sisters in the labor movement. As part of these efforts, letter carriers reach out to labor voters to urge them to vote for pro-worker candidates and to help them with needs such as registering to vote, locating their precincts or voting by mail.

Third, the political fund supports communications, education and regular outreach throughout the election cycle to our members, so they are well informed about voter registration, early voting, absentee voting and voting by mail, candidates, issues and state policies. Led by five legislative and political organizers at the regional level and hundreds of letter carrier congressional liaisons who monitor individual members of Congress and educate them-with the backing of all NALC members who participate in our grassroots efforts—the outreach program gets results because LCPF sets the stage.

"With so much at stake, NALC's legislative efforts are one of the most impactful parts of our union's work," NALC President Renfroe said. "The best and easiest way you can contribute to this effort is with a contribution to LCPF."

Currently, only 12 percent of members contribute to LCPF. For the last few years, this percentage has been stagnant.

"There is massive room for LCPF growth," Renfroe said. "And when LCPF grows, so does our influence in Washington and our impact for letter carriers."

While signing up for LCPF is one of the best investments you can make in your job and retirement, the current process could be improved. Signing up can be time-consuming and involves various forms. Fortunately, a portion of the 2023-2026 tentative agreement would simplify the process.

The tentative agreement, which was subject to ratification by members at the time of this writing, includes an agreement that would allow our members to authorize NALC to have the Postal Service withhold their contributions through payroll deduction. In short, this would make signing up to contribute to LCPF, the NALC Disaster Relief Foundation and other important causes much easier for active letter carriers.

"When it's easier to sign up, the possibilities for our PAC, and the results we could achieve, are endless," Renfroe said. "We have accomplished a lot with the help of LCPF in recent years. If we come together and increase LCPF participation by 30, 15, or even 5 percent, LCPF could quickly become one of the most influential PACs in the labor movement and, indeed, in all of Washington."

To acknowledge those who support the LCPF, every donor is recognized each year in a special issue of The Postal Record. The list of donors who supported the LCPF in 2024 begins on page 27. The list includes the percentage of carriers from each branch and state that contribute and the per capita contribution.

If you didn't give to LCPF last year, please consider doing so this year. The amount you give isn't important—participation is. As with all our union efforts, we are stronger together.

HOW TO GIVE TO LCPF

The easiest way to support LCPF is to sign up for payroll deduction through PostalEASE, which most LCPF supporters do. Payroll deduction makes supporting the LCPF easy and affordable. This also allows the LCPF to plan strategically, based on steady, consistent support. Career carriers and CCAs can sign up for LCPF donations through payroll deduction. However, CCAs must sign up again following a five-day break in service, and former CCAs who have converted to career status must sign up again following their conversion.

Active or retired letter carriers also can easily arrange for automatic deductions from a bank account or, for retired carriers, from their annuities.

NALC members have the option of making a one-time contribution, or supplementing their automatic donations, by writing a check to the Letter Carrier Political Fund.

Sign-up forms are included on pages 23-26. To sign up or get more information on how to donate, visit nalc.org/pac.

"We have enormous untapped potential in our members," Renfroe said. "The sky is the limit, and we need to reach higher. I urge every single member of NALC to support LCPF this year so our union can continue to excel and expand its legislative work." PR

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

NALC is fortunate that 93 percent of letter carriers choose to join our union. We have a history of successful organizing because our 290,000 active and retired members know our union delivers results that improve our jobs.

Many external factors affect our jobs as letter carriers, the main one being what occurs in the halls of Congress. Our elected federal officials have a say in the Postal Service's operations as well as our health care and retirement benefits.

Through our political action committee (PAC), the Letter Carrier Political Fund (LCPF), NALC has a voice in Washington; however, that voice could be much louder.

Currently, only 12 percent of NALC members give to the LCPF. With these contributions, NALC has worked to get pro-letter carrier candidates from both parties elected, participated in get-out-the-vote efforts nationwide and, most importantly, used our influence to help get postal reform enacted last year.

We have accomplished a lot with only 12 percent of members contributing. Imagine all we could achieve if every NALC member contributed even a small amount to the LCPF.

If the 93 percent of letter carriers who choose to be members of our union also decided to contribute to our PAC, NALC would undoubtedly have one of the most influential political voices on Capitol Hill. With an increase in contributors, our influence would grow and pave the way for the passage of our priority legislation.

Letter carriers know how to deliver. If we all contribute to the LCPF, we can deliver a loud and clear message to Congress: Letter carriers' voices matter and must be heard when legislation affecting our work and families is considered.

If you are already a contributor to the LCPF, I would like to thank you for your commitment to propelling NALC's legislative agenda forward.

If you haven't signed up to contribute yet, I encourage you to do so as soon as possible. No matter the size of your contribution, it will make a difference for you and our brothers and sisters.

In solidarity,

Brian L. Renfroe President

Any guideline amounts are merely suggestions, and you may contribute more or less than the guidelines suggest and the union will not favor or disadvantage you by reason of the amount of your contribution or your decision not to contribute. The Letter Carrier Political Fund will use the money it receives to contribute to candidates for federal office and undertake other political spending as permitted by law. Your selection shall remain in full force and effect until cancelled. Contributions to the Letter Carrier Political Fund are not deductible for federal income tax purposes. Federal law prohibits the Letter Carrier Political Fund from soliciting contributions from individuals who are not NALC members, executive and administrative staff or their families. Any contribution received from such an individual will be refunded to that contributor. Federal law requires us to use our best efforts to collect and report the name, mailing address, name of employer and occupation of individuals whose contributions exceed $200 in a calendar year.

From the Trustees

A s 2024 came to an end, the residents participated in the annual Nalcrest holiday lighting festivities. The day began with a parade around the perimeter of the property, led by the Nalcrest Polar Express. Residents then came to the Town Center to begin the countdown to turn on the holiday lights. The event concluded with everyone gathering in the Nalcrest Auditorium for holiday snacks and entertainment.

The end of the year also marked the end of an era. Retired Region 9 National Business

The Nalcrest Polar Express

Agent Matthew Rose relinquished his position as trustee, president and Standing Committee chairperson at Nalcrest. Matty is a living legend as an NBA, as well as at Nalcrest.

When I became NALC national president in 2009, one of the many things I wanted to do was restore Nalcrest to the community that President Doherty dreamed of when he established it back in 1964. In 2009, Nalcrest was in the midst of financial and operational turmoil. Months later, I appointed Matty, along with retired NALC Director of Retirees Don Southern and retired NALC Health Benefits Director Tom Young, to serve on the Nalcrest Standing Committee. At the time, Matty stepped down from his position as Florida State Association president to devote his time to the task. Under Matty's leadership, the three of them spent thousands of volunteer hours facing and overcoming the many challenges associated with making the operational and financial changes necessary to make Nalcrest the successful community that it is today. I can't thank them enough. Retired Branch 599 President Tony Diaz and I have since replaced Don and Tom. and we have had the pleasure of working with Matty on the committee.

As Matty moves on to his next NALC adventure, I want to thank him on behalf of the entire NALC membership for his leadership and commitment to Nalcrest. I look forward to continuing our 45 years of friendship and working together for NALC in whatever capacity helps serve our members.

Veteran profile: Ron Oree

R on Oree has been a letter carrier since March of 1997. Since then, the Flushing, NY Branch 294 carrier has been heavily involved in the union, holding various union positions. But before his postal carreer, Oree served in the Army.

Before both his military and letter carrier careers, he went to college and studied computers, then got a job on Wall Street after graduation. He was a part of the delayed entry program, so he worked at his job on Wall Street for a few months until he began his military training.

In the military, he worked in IT. He entered the Army with a certain rank and immediately went to work in IT because he had gone to school for computers. He served domestically for about two years prior to going to Germany, where he worked on a new computer system. When he got to Germany, Army personnel had just gotten the computer system, so he helped American soldiers learn how to use it. In addition to IT work, Oree did military training and worked with military vehicles.

"It was a great experience," Oree said. "You have so many people around you, all working for a common goal, kind of like the post office."

Oree enjoyed learning about German culture. In his free time, he got into film photography and learned to develop his own photos.

After his four years with the military ended, Oree went back to Wall Street to the job he had before the Army and stayed there for six years. He then became a freelancer.

"I was able to make a living with the computer skills that I had and eventually I ended up taking the test for the post office, because I needed benefits," Oree said.

"What I enjoy about carrying is the way people respect you out on the street, you know, and it makes you feel good that you're doing something that people appreciate," he said.

He draws comparisons with his time in the military to his time as a letter carrier.

"It's very similar," Oree said. "You have the chain of command, which you have to follow."

Oree was inspired to get involved in the union when he saw his coworkers being bullied and having their rights violated. In 2009 he became an executive board member as the sergeant-at-arms. Then, in 2010, he became a local business agent. In 2012 he was the regional food drive coordinator for New York, Connecticut and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Next, he was a Customer Connect coordinator in 2014. He has now served as a national assigned assistant (NAA) for Region 15 for the past three years. When he isn't carrying out his NAA responsibilities, he carries mail in Flushing and is the financial secretary for his branch.

"I just enjoy giving my knowledge to people and hopefully trying to teach them to defend themselves," he said.

He says that when he first joined the Postal Service, about half of his co-workers were veterans. He said that he has noticed fewer now, but he remembers that time fondly.

"When I first started in the post office, there were so many military people here," Oree said. "It was almost like I never left the military."

He feels fortunate to have had the experiences he's had with both the military and the Postal Service. "I just feel so proud and grateful that I've been allowed to do those things," Oree said. "I'm 63 years old now, so it's been a long time. I really enjoy what I do helping people out, you know, that's my favorite, just helping people."

2025 Branch Challenge update

n 2025, the Muscular Dystrophy Association proudly marks 75 years of legacy, impact and momentum in the fight against neuromuscular diseases. Since its founding, MDA has been at the forefront of research breakthroughs, while also providing access to comprehensive care and championing the rights of people living with muscular dystrophy, ALS, and more than 300 other neuromuscular diseases. This milestone has been made possible by generations of support from people living with neuromuscular disease and their families, along with researchers, clinicians and volunteers, as well as donors (like you!) who boldly drive our mission forward.

NALC has played a key role in all of this. As we look ahead, we remain committed to honoring this legacy, building on the impact we've made together, and continuing our momentum toward transformative progress for people living with neuromuscular disorders.

Exciting news! This year, we will be changing the branch challenges. Branch challenges will now be quarterly: Q1, Q2 and Q3.

- Q1: Jan. 1-March 31
- Q2: April 1-June 30
- Q3: July 1-Sept. 30
- Q4: Oct. 1-Dec. 31. No challenge, please use this time to get all 2025 donations turned in for the 2025 Honor Roll.

New Branch Challenge details: All donations must be received by the last date of the quarter to count. Otherwise, they will be counted toward the next quarter's challenge. Thanks for understanding the hard deadline. If you are worried about meeting a deadline, we encourage you to use your branch's online fundraising page to make an online donation. Need help locating your branch's 2025 Donor Drive page? Please contact us.
